Immaculate Conception.

Rome, Nov. 11.—The festivities in honor of the jubilee of the immaculate to comption may be said to have begun today with the holding of a brilliant gensistory, which was especially interesting as the pope lately had been indisposed and many persons wished to be assured of his recovery. All the rardinals living in Rome, numbering about twenty-five, gathered in the half of the consistory at the vatican half an hour before the ceremical tak-fing their places in three grouns.

the secret consistory the pape de-livered an allocution recalling the origin of the concordar and the reasons which induced Pape Pins VII to con-clude it with Napoleon, especially re-ferring to the provisions made for the appointment of bishops, the budget of the infaistry of public worship, which the ministry of public worship, which was regulated by what was practically a contract and finally the free exercise of Catholic worship. He added that the so-called "organic articles" added in 1802 by Napoleon had never been recognized by the holy see, either as law or as being part of the concernat. Therefore the puntiff deplored the fact pontiff entered the hall of the nsistory surrounded by his immediand Swiss guards and followed by the papal court. He seated himself on the throne and those present advanced to pay their homage, after which the op pay their minings, after which the pope delivered a prayer to the Holy Ghost. Following this all except the cardinals left the hall, as the consistory was secret. The pope and cardinals then proceeded to proclaim the archbishops, bishops, etc., as already appointed by brief, which was a mere form and the none delivered his alloorm, and the pope delivered his allo-

But who, in thought, can separate the heart from love? And so, my brethren, we worship here the love—the infinite, incomprehensible love, of the Son of God for us—the love which he had for us all from eternity, when, as the second person of the Blessed Trinity, he loved us "with an everiasting love"—and that other which filled the sacred heart at the inoment of the incarnation—all the love of the God-Man for us, both human and divine, as symbolised in his sacred heart.—Rev.
